PROJECT SYNOPSIS

Nicole was raised on tarot card readings, metaphysics, and reaching other realms through mediation, but didn't realize the risks. When her Mother's spirit gets trapped by a demon during a guided mediation with Nicole and her sister, it causes her physical body to die in the real world. Nicole's husband Dave does not believe in the spirit world. But Nicole is determined to use her psychic skills to reach her mother's spirit to find out what really happened with or without Dave's approval.

Maggie, the daughter of Dave and Nicole is only six years old. She has the same gift her grandmother did, the ability to astral travel at will. In the process, she makes a demon friend. The Demon gains Maggie trust. Her new friend leads her spirit out of her house into the realm of demons, monsters, and disgruntled spirits. Her connection to her physical body grows thinner, until it snaps. Now panicked and frightened, Maggie is trapped. She is unable to communicate with her mother. Maggie's body now houses an evil entity.

Eager to live in a human host, the Demon can't control the evil that drives it. Nicole starts to see the changes in Maggie, recognizing her daughter's spirit isn't in there. She confronts the Demon, who has no problem showing their true self. The Demon wants to make a deal with Nicole. She must give up her soul and leave her body or find another human to sacrifice to them so Maggie can return to her body and live. Nicole has a choice to make.

Nicole has to save her daughter. Ultimately she chooses to sacrifice the non-believer Dave. The Demon gets to live on in Dave's body, driving his truck away in to the sunset. Leaving us with another story to tell.
